Weston demonstrates vision; accepts long-term job

By Amanda Gades

A decision has been made and the church is moving forward with its new Central Cass Superintendent. The position has been filled with the appointment of Mark Weston, who is in the process of finalizing his agreements with the Central Cass School Board. Weston was selected out of several candidates for the position after a successful interview of Weston Feb. 27. Following the interview, the board approved a motion to have the board president appoint a committee to sit down with Weston and talk about the contract. About Mark Weston.

Weston did not set out to serve as Central Cass Superintendent-long term for him applied for the open position. But, sometime in the past eight months, things changed. “The principals have been very positive and good to me and I’ve enjoyed working with the staff and school board,” Weston said during his Feb. 27 interview. “There has been a pressure that has been created.” Now, he can see himself at Central Cass for years to come.

Weston has also started the work with the community through attending Casselton Business Association (CBA) meetings, talking with CBA members and meeting with local teachers. Some of the challenges that Weston foresees for the district is meeting Adequate Yearly Progress report requirements and transforming the attitudes of students. In the coming years, the goal for Central Cass would be to increase the quality of the education in form of an alternative school and ensure that all teachers enjoy coming to school everyday.

New Hope Lutheran Church is formed

By Amanda Gades

A new chapter in the faith lives of some Leonid area residents is beginning to unfold as New Hope Lutheran Church begins its journey. On Feb. 7, church members at each of the Helendale Lutheran Parish and the Leonard Lutheran Parish approved a vote to dissolve both church and the Leonard Lutheran Church from New Life Lutheran Church in Rothsay, Minn. New Hope Lutheran Church.

A simple thing can mean the world to someone who has never experienced it. The overwhelming rush of excitement hit Brandon Kloth on Feb. 27 after he was able to embark on a 10-mile snowmobiling trip in the Casselton area. “I have been waiting way too long for this,” said Kloth, who resides supported living services at CQRI Executive Director Rhonda King.

I had contacted Brandon to invite him to an unrelated event I thought he would enjoy and at the end of the phone call, he said by email, “I’ve been wanting to go on a ride on a snowmobile.”

Brandon had asked all of the staff at his house who would like to join him and three other men. Unfortunately, he was the only one who ran into many road blocks.

Sewer work underway

Sewer work is underway but will not see any work being done on the city sewer lines. It is all in an effort to upgrade each city’s infrastructure.

In Page, the city sewer lines are made of clay and not the most common with class B schools. Digging is not required due to new technology called cured-in-place pipe (CIPP).

Currently, the sewer mains are being cleaned and analyzed by Van Company’s according to Page City Director Kyle Gohdes. The results of the work will be given on the other end of April and televised we will review the sewer tapes and make a final determination on what exactly needs to be done,” said Gohdes.

We have consensus as a board, as a community, as a staff that there is a need for change,” Weston said.

cancer a second time. He was then transferred to Mayo clinic where doctors diagnosed Joe with a two auto immune disease called Poly-.

myositis (pol-e-mi-o-SI-tis) which is an autoimmune inflammatory condition that is characterized by muscle inflammation and weakness. The most noticeable symptom of this disease is weakness of the skeletal muscles, which then compromises movement.

This disease has left Joe unable to walk, stand, or even sit up for any length of time. Polyositis has plagued him with a tremendous amount of muscle mass with degeneration. Joe will likely be out of work for at least eight months. What makes it even more difficult for Joe is that he will include intense physical therapy. Joe’s family often has to carry him around.

The Tuinstra’s grew up in the Fargo area and now reside in Erie. Their children attended Northern Cass

Central Cass alumn to enhance musical education with one-of-a-kind show

By Sarah Sorvaag

Most high school bands have had the opportunity to participate in arrangements of songs that are arranged in a Pop, R&B or Rock genre. But what about arrangements of widely popular Minneapolis-St. Paul area and classic rock anthems. The trick is to see another side of what a professional band is like. This band is full of people who are all about having fun, and it means to participate in a musical ensemble to a new level. Students at Lisbon High School will be given the chance to perform an arrangement of musical theatre. In addition to the dance, guests are encouraged to wear neon colored clothing, or white, in order to allow the black lights to enhance fun color combinations.

"The program is a unique chance to expose our students to the creativity and fun that can be found in musical theatre," said John Monilaws, who teaches music at the school.

"T Baston instills a strong base for creative writing. The Lisbon music program is aiming to be huge, but we would like to get in some more shows, especially if the kids are interested," Monilaws said. "Throughout. Most musical career, she has learned many skills and lessons such as the creation of wonderfully choreographed pieces. The action as an experienced professional musician has been working on, such as lights, sound, and stage movements. That has to be arranged with an average music teacher can't get as much as an underground of music discovering new talent. We have to pass on the torch from what we've learned and not have an ego. We want to pass on some modern hits, and what it means to participate in an arrangement with a professional musician since the 1990s.

As Central Cass alumni, Moss and John Monilaws have stayed in touch over the years. Monilaws saw Moss in Education at a Twin Cities version of American Idol. Members of the band said to create a show that would encourage and include other forms of talent. They decided that in band and from a dance company that wanted to make a difference, they had members were inner-city high-risk kids. We all believe that their talent. We all now a unique opportunity to help band and performed and not be turfed by the cast of the band on an exceptional dancer and statistically could be their talent. We all believe that through the cracks. Cast helped to keep him focused and for more. He finished high school. Found a job he loves and he is now working on the program. If you don’t have an arrangement for the Black Eyed Peas. That has to be arranged and lessons related to the creation of ancient rhythms handed down to the educational portion of the event will also be given the chance to experience a CBO show. The performance will start from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at Lisbon High School. The performance will take place on March 19 at 7:00 p.m. and is free of charge. Iwen retires after 33 years at the Good Samaritan-Arthur

On January 18, Noel Iwen of Arthur, retired her position as a C.N.A at the Good Samaritan-Sheridan, after being employed for 33 years. “It has been the most rewarding time of my life,” Iwen stated. Iwen described her career in terms of how much she learned about loving and caring for others. “Each resident, in their own way, gave me a gift that I could not have received from anywhere else. I will cherish that for the rest of my life,” she reflected.

During the span of Iwen’s 33 years spent as a C.N.A, she has noticed a change in the behavior of the facility’s inner workings. She considered the most irreplaceable way of tending to the residents was simply by showing affection with thoughtful care. “When I first started, residents could do some things on their own. As the years pass, their health begins to change. That means the job becomes more intense as a person has to shift to a higher level of responsibility. The higher level of care is a personal achievement, at least for me,” Iwen explained.

With her position in the right hand side of her life, Iwen stated that the Good Samaritan-Sheridan was an award winning service, in 1998 and 2008. During her time at the Good Samaritan, Quality的事, Iwen was given an award for dedication and the residential bonds she made.

“I would come to work and go out of my way to help one of the residents.” Iwen stated. “I believe that I have truly been blessed to have a C.N.A. I am a better person now in my life,” Iwen ended.

Bruce Bowerman presents Noel Iwen with a plaque in recognition of her years of work at the Good Samaritan-Arthur.

This year the women of Cameron developed the theme, “Let Everything That Has Breath Praise God.” A public meeting will be held in the Page Auditorium Monday evening, March 8. Each year the meeting is held to inform the residents of the condition of the city sewer system in 1980, the need for maintenance, the method to be used, and the estimated cost. The planning department will supply a public’s opinion before they would make any decisions from the US Re- public Development. The sewer pipes have been cleaned and tested to check their condition.

Organic crop budgets for 2010 available from NDSU

Agriculture

North Dakota Farmers Union (NDFU) will be hosting two informational sessions on March 9. At 9 a.m. in Minot and at 1:30 p.m. in Jamestown, Doug Bernsen of PVP will discuss how farmers, ranchers and rural North Dakotans can profit through the future of energy. The events are at the International Inn and the event in Jamestown will be held at the Gladstone Inn, both are free of charge and open to the public.

The Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP) continues in 2010. They are now located as of January 4, 2010. They are now located at www.hunterequipmentinc.com.

Livestock Indemnity Program continues in 2010

Livestock producers are encouraged to maintain inventory and production records. The policy for the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP), says Aaron Krauter, State Executive Director of Loss within 30 days of the loss. 1. A notice of loss must be submitted to FSA or written notice to the local Farm Service Agency. The LIP program will continue through September 30, 2011, unless terminated sooner. The Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP) is a cost-sharing program for the death of livestock in excess of normal mortality rates due to adverse weather events.

The producer who has livestock losses in 2010 must file the Notice of Loss within 30 days of the loss, or subdue a pest problem. A green crop can be used to treat a nutrient deficiency in addition to providing a buffer. A green crop is grown back to back if the previous crop is expected to become a weed in the subsequent crop.

The organic crop budgets is available at the Web site in an Excel work sheet. The publication may be of value to organic producers in other parts of the state, as well as conventions and regional crop or related records. The notice of loss for 2010 may complete the LIP application anytime during the calendar year and no later than January 30, 2011. Applicants must provide proof of the livestock deaths.

The proof may include verifiable documents such as veterinary records, bank or other livestock records such as calving books may be accepted. If these types of records are not accepted, a certifiable statement from a third party may be acceptable. The grower may have to verify the death is by third party certification and has specific knowledge of the dollar.

The applicant must also provide evidence of crop production methods, is a factor in estimating the quality soybeans at $19 to $21 per bushel.

A primary assumption for all types of livestock that perished will be held at the Gladstone Inn, both are free of charge and open to the public.

North Dakota Farmers Union would like producers to have the notice of loss as simply a report to FSA and has specific knowledge of the dollar.
